Summary of findings:

In examining the data collected through the End of Treatment survey, the results show a majority of persons served to be satisfied with the level and quality of care received during their stay at Above It All Treatment Center. While the 86% average rating leaves room for improvement, it allows a solid and promising foundation on which to build higher satisfaction rates in the future.

Upon examination of data collected from the Aftercare Survey, it is clear that the treatment provided at Above It All Treatment Center is successful at affording long-term solutions for alumni clients to lead sober lives. The data also implies a direct correlation between the clients that successfully completed the program, and their continued sobriety, suggesting that the treatment methods practiced, and quality of care offered at Above It All is effective at defeating addiction.
